Draft for approval

Office of the I.G of Police, Rajasthan, Jaipur.

STANDING ORDER NO. 6. 216-11-62

It has been noticed that undue delay in investigation of cases is becoming a rule rather than an exception. The percentage of recovery of stolen property, detection of cases and their successful prosecution is markedly low in most of the districts. The primary duty of investigating officer is to investigate the cases successfully and bring the culprits to book in the shortest possible time. An offence investigated at a rapid pace and brought to a successful conclusion has a morale-boosting effect on the Police and demoralizing effect on the criminal. It also inspires confidence in the public and wins acclamation.

2. In view of the importance of this aspect of Police working it has been decided as a matter of policy that performance in this ~~directed~~ direction by the investigating and supervising officers will be given main attention while considering their promotion to higher grade and rank.

3. It is enjoined upon the officers, who draw the Annual Confidential Reports, that while recording their annual remarks on subordinate Investigating officers, they will make a mention of their performances in respect of recovery, detection and successful prosecution and about the reasonability of the time taken in the investigation of cases.

4. The Circle Officers while recording their Inspection Notes, on the prescribed items, on the Police Stations will also offer their remarks, in their inspection notes, on the aforesaid points with a view to giving correct resume of the working of the subordinate investigating officers.

5. The annual remarks of the Superintendents of Police on the Subordinate Investigating Officers will be recorded
